VALLI srl Horseboxes, horse vans, Special vehicles and Specialist vehicle conversion, Race car transporters, Race motorcycle transporters, Dog (transport) trailers.

Our company, which officially began in 1962 as auto repair body shop, from the earliest days has dedicated all its forces to realize new and ambitious projects, gaining throughout the years achievements and successes.

At the end of the seventies took place the challenging turn which has marked our history: amongst the first in Italy, in a field still unexplored then, we began planning and building at first horse trailers, by completely handling their production, and then horse vans.

Spirit of innovation and intuition, also supported by the energy and the strong motivation of each member of our team, urged us to extend our involvement also to other special sectors: vehicles to transport racing cars and motorcycles, vehicles to be used by the Civil Protection and Fire Departments, means for emergency medical interventions and logistic support..... all those vehicles and every other extraordinary type of fitting where not only the technical capability is necessary, but also where there is a need for a remarkable creativity and prototyping planning.

Today more than in the past, as we have to work on the big global market, we fight to defend our hard-won successes and our leadership position while promoting us as a company with a pure Italian soul and with one "mania": to think big and without boundaries in order to achieve the best outcome for the undertaken projects.

Our strong point is Quality coupled with a continuous and tireless research for new instruments and technologies, while the cornerstone of our competitiveness and success is the constant attention to the expectations of each single customer: this is for us more than a slogan, this is a reason for being. We have elected Excellence as the policy which inspires and guides the style of work of our staff and every day we win the respect of the customers on the field, investing on their satisfaction, well aware that the process of winning their loyalty starts from far away and that it is a lot easier to win new customers than their loyalty in time...

Our philosophy is to create always a customised project, without surrendering to standardisation. We consider every vehicle unique and exclusive, which is why the work is performed by establishing a direct and constant cooperation with the client, which allows us to understand and fulfil his real needs and desires.
